2.1 Scholarships Supports

WNSO has initiated long term and short term scholarship program to ensure the quality education in the form of National and International Scholarship Schemes. Since 2006, WNSO has been providing scholarships opportunity to study at international level. Besides, WNSO-Nepal supports needy school and college students in the form of scholarships through the donations raised from the members and volunteers. This organization is exploring additional opportunities for the students of marginalized groups to provide scholarships in collaboration with private colleges and universities.

WNSO has tried to elaborate large numbers of internal scholarship scheme throughout the country, and external at international level. WNSO is expecting additional supports and collaboration from government of Nepal, like minded organizations and individuals as well. This organization, as a mediator, also leaves space for the individual personalities to satisfy the will-of-contribution by accepting and channelizing the resource for such particular purpose. In this regard, one of our objectives is to make it easy as much possible for every student to achieve their full potential who have been unable to gain education due to social hazards, poor economic condition and communal ignorance regarding education. Without the provision of education, a country will never prosper and develop; hence our organization has determined to uplift the education standard.

2.1.1 WNSO Nepal Internal Scholarships

Students, who are brilliant, facing a real economic crisis, and are from deprived family background, are the primary achievers of WNSO Internal scholarships scheme. This scheme, although seems to be of low monetary support, equally attempts to encourage through high moral support to the target group of students. WNSO Nepal has been initiating to provide scholarships to the needy Nepalese students throughout the country.

A very deprived family background with great talent: Mr. Rajan Kumar Chaudhary of grade IV (Care School, Gaushala Kathmandu), a resident of Saptari district became the second achiever of WNSO Nepal internal Scholarship Scheme. He was awarded with an education fees support in grade IV with amount of NRs 4500. Further extension of his scholarship depends both on his performance and the availability of financial resources with WNSO-Nepal.

Similarly first internal scholarship was awarded to Govinda Shrestha, inhabitant of Arunkhola, Nawalparasi at school premise in presence of principal, guardian and students. He is an orphan young studying at grade 11 - economically a very weak deserves. He has secured distinction marks in SLC and was unable to pay fees of higher secondary education due of... financial weakness. WNSO Nepal sponsored NRs. 8000.00 (First instalment) at 13, Nov, 2007. After assessment of his performance and utilization of sponsorship, WNSO will try to give continuity for grade 12 if financial resource is available.

2.1.3 School support
WNSO-Nepal in coordination with WNSO UK, has also initiated supports to community based educational institutes for infrastructure development. Seti Devi primary school, Humpakhar VDC-3, Sindhupalkchowk, was selected as the first school supported by WNSO Nepal. WNSO-Nepal donated sum of Rs 25,000 to this school for construction of the rooms on 6 March 2006. It was established by Public effort in 2034. Since the establishment it has been facing several problems to run properly. The community and local children become direct beneficiaries of this support.

2.2 Program on capacity building of youth
The emerging young generation from the rural/urban areas and the least developed regions of Nepal, an enthusiastic generation for nation or future of Nepal to provide country a prosperous shape, are under dilemma due to lack of various skills essential to face the competitive age of 21st century. Without such skills, a nation can’t expect higher output from them to upgrade towards prosperity. Holding such consciousness youth are searching for various skills. To quench their thirst of such skills WNSO-Nepal, a non political and not for profit organization, organized a life skill development workshop to scan positive behaviour in trainees. We found every individual being enable to deal effectively with the demands and challenges of everyday life.

Simply speaking, life skills are innumerable. If we observe its nature, we may easily find it being circulated by the impact of societies, circumstances in which an individual lives. There are core set of skills initiative for the promotion of the health and wellbeing of children and adolescents. It is hard to find definitive list of life skills applicable in day to day life. However, the interpretive terms of life skill includes psychosocial to interpersonal skills. Significance of these skills becomes prime cause to value life skill as most important subject in life. The choice of different skills will vary according to the topic and local setting or conditions. Though the list suggests these categories as distinct from each other, many skills are used simultaneously in practice. For example, decision making often involves critical thinking (“What are my options”) and values clarification (“what is important to me?”). Ultimately, the interplay between the skills is what produces powerful behavioural outcomes, especially where this approach is supported by other strategies such as media, policies and health services.

2.2.1 Life skill development training programme
WNSO-Nepal conducted the orientation workshop on 11th to 13th Jan 2008. The main target of the program was to address the burning needs of youth with the help of life skill knowledge: goal setting, dreaming, planning and making strategies to achieve them. All together 29 participants took part in the training. The participants were from different backgrounds and regions. We could easily analyze their satisfied mood after achieving such pragmatic knowledge in 3 days workshop. Finally, training remained as a fruitful example for the organization to strengthen its volunteering aspect. WNSO-Nepal, well considering to the craze of youth for such skills, is obliged to precede such trainings with high care in future too.

The experienced resource persons: Mr Sudeep Shrestha, Mr. Ramsharan Poudel and Mr. Hari Khanal under leadership of Mr. Binaya Basyal facilitate the program. Similarly, guest facilitator Bachchu Ram Basnet and Mr Nara Bahadur Karki, freelancer also shared experiences on how to think positive and highlighted on the Buddha Philosophy towards Life; and participants were provided extensive support to the 3 days long programme.

2.3 ADVOCACY, CAMPAIGNING AND YOUTH COUNSELLING

2.3.1 Knowledge exchange programme among Gurus and youths

WNSO-Nepal at present is developing youth volunteers from students’ community within and outside the country to work in social sectors and community that needs a continuous reform as the 21st century proceeds forward. The organization is also working for the national goal set by the country fostering peace. One of the crucial sectors in which WNSO-Nepal is keenly interested is Constituent Assembly preceding for building an inclusive Constitution of the State with the representation of minority and underprivileged and ethnic diversity. The Constituent Assembly Election would be a historical event. That is a new experience for every stake holders of the country. Youth of nation are the change agents and social engineers, all the hopes lie with the new and emerging generation of youth. The very energetic young people are channels for the development work. Constituent Assembly Election would favour transforming the country from present state to concept of New Nepal with a new constitution built with consensus among the elected representatives from particular communities and from different political parties. Entire country would be decentralized in federal structure; the traditional administrative practices in the unitary system need to be replaced by the concept of federalism. Hence in this situation of the political vacuum, efforts of the educated youth must be unidirectional towards making a favourable policy, law and order to ensure the end of impunity created during a decade long conflict, a very painful poverty, unequal practices among the so called upper caste and lower caste system, geographical discriminative conditions due to lack of social expertise.

Invited resource person and guests shared their views at WNSO programme and well explained the importance of youth energy in nation building process and also thanked WNSO at least for the initiation of good events in practice. Prof. Abhi Subedi also added that how students can be a crucial model for the development of the nation by employing their energetic efforts. He analyzed current situation regarding the fortune and potential political disturbance of the country. Youth have sacrificed their life to stand up with a golden history, but unfortunately, nothing has achieved yet to represent what they dreamed. Now, it is time for all the technical manpower in addition to the purely political figures to participate in the political decision making episodes of the country, Prof. Subedi added.

In the program, constitution-expert Mr. Kasi Raj Dahal pointed out on the ongoing instability towards the Constituent Assembly. He also explained the solution of the present obstacle faced by Constituent Assembly could be overcome with the effort of the Nepalese youth. He also added that our political leaders are not heading towards the construction of New Nepal, rather they are experimenting the country as a Constitution Laboratory. To accomplish the constitution assembly successfully, current leaders must demonstrate the quality of negotiation, responsibility and honesty. During the program views were also forwarded by Prof. Dr. Sanjeev Upreti and Ms. Geeta Pathak, human right activist and senior lawyer.

2.3.2 Inter college speech competition program

Entitled on topic “Role of Youth in constituent Assembly” Kathmandu Valley Level Speech Contest was held on 7th October, 2007. Primary objectives of this programme were 1) to disseminate and create positive message of Constituent Assembly Election to the urban youth and seek there direct and indirect supports and contribution for the success of such polls. 2) To encourage the youth volunteers in transformation of their energy in national building and bring positive change in their thinking. The competition was focused on the youth belonging to student class pursuing their academics in different stream such as Science, Management, humanities and social sciences, Commerce, Engineering, Medicine, and Agriculture etc. The age group of students range from 16-24 yrs. It is very common that urban youth due to lack of advice and counselling keep less interest in such national issues which is not a good indicator in long term, where as possibility of becoming effective leader exist for them as well.

This competition was organized with the view of developing the eloquence of the youth and to create a forum so that youth can reveal their talents in their real life. Constituent Assembly has been the national agenda and this aims to promote the youth’s interest in this agenda. Obviously, the constitution going to be framed after the CA elections would be indispensable for the new resurgent Nepal and we strongly believe that the youth participation must be large to give shape of NEW NEPAL with dynamic visions. Hence, it is necessary to disseminate awareness on this national agenda among the youth and we hope this program will help to raise awareness among the youth as well as other all concerned.

2.3.3 Campaigning of CA poll in community

Efforts made by energetic members of WNSO-Nepal played immensely appreciable role to counsel the people of remote area about the constitution assembly. Main purpose of the visit, beside the local product enhancement, was to make the people aware about the role of coming CA election, which is considered to shape the future of Nepal. Conduction of civic education and awareness program to local community of Palpa and Parbat district was one of the most crucial step made by this volunteer organization. This program was supported by WNSO-Nepal, the team comprised of four members, with minimum logistics. The team conducted the touched-with-time activities in the local communities and performed the designed program with their effort with in 10 days.

2.3.5 Information sharing

New entry of volunteers is rapidly increasing. WNSO-Nepal organizes regular programmes to interact with volunteers and maintains give and take relationship with valuable suggestions. Besides, it becomes WNSO-Nepal committee’s responsibility to update them with plan and activities. Even the expectation of new concepts from volunteer is high. For the promotion of such concepts, WNSO is obliged to organize such interaction programs frequently. Most often, during the course of different activities it becomes easy for all to interact, however, WNSO considers for new updated and innovative strategies to achieve the mission. For that such programs become highly effective, during the program we even weave the new strategies and discuss over the issues.

All participants have shared the interests, experiences and their commitment toward the expansion of WNSO mission, its recognition and to contribute for promotion in coming days. WNSO has committed to orient them fully with new plans and targets and commence with new roadmap to go ahead. 2.3.7 WNSO Nepal Best Volunteer Award 2007

‘WNSO-Nepal Best Volunteer Award’ can be taken as the most significant step to enhance the volunteers’ qualities, skills and dedication. It can be taken as an incentive award towards volunteer to re-energize them, and to make one model and letting others the way to follow. WNSO recognizes the value and need of this award to associate volunteers’ in incessant manner to provide better output for social transformation and nation building playing with their energy, concepts and will-to-do spirit. Organization has been selecting its volunteers by assessing the dedication. Best volunteer award of 2007 was awarded to Mr. Yadav Bhattarai during the celebration of international youth day (12 Aug 2007). Similarly, Mr. Arjun Subedi has been declared for best volunteer award 2008.

2.4 SOCIAL SERVICE AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

2.4.1 Blood donation programme

Nepalese people have been facing a real crisis of blood and blood products throughout the country. Blood transfusion can be a life-saving intervention for different conditions such as surgery, accident and other bleeding conditions, delivery cases and for the treatment of many diseases. Public participation in blood donation is increasing but in the mean time the demand of blood is increasing more rapidly. Needy patients who are struggling in between life and death are not receiving necessary blood to support for their life threatening situation. Many people are not being survived, simply due to the lack of blood, despite the utmost efforts of clinicians. And the ultimate outcome becomes death. Therefore, keeping in view of its importance, WNSO-Nepal has decided to compensate this lacking by organizing episodes of blood donation camps as a part of social activities and tries to give insights of youth volunteerism through such events in Nepal.

Above mentioned programs are very essential to fulfil the lack of blood and blood components during the actual patient’s need. This program helped to create awareness/motivation among public (especially to youth) about the importance of blood donation as a life saving campaign. Program being organized in a public place, will impart knowledge about blood donation and its benefits. As a long term perspective, people recognize WNSO-Nepal as a social organization through volunteerism in the social activities. Interested youth will utilize WNSO-Nepal as their platform to serve the nation through volunteerism and others will replicate such activities for a good reason.

WNSO-Nepal as a social organization has expanded its activities towards blood donation, an esteemed humanitarian endeavour. WNSO-Nepal has provided a platform for Nepalese youth to spread a message of volunteerism and to develop a concept of youth-volunteerism in the country.

WNSO-Nepal is making efforts to draw the attention of government on such critical issues.

3.3.3 Health Camp programme
Several poor people from backward and deprived communities are not aware about their health due to ignorance. Even children on street and in machinery houses are living a sarcastic life with dark future. Government body doesn’t seem paying required attention to such children for their fundamental rights. WNSO-Nepal with their expertises and expenses considers for cooperation to these children, ignorant people in the way possible to secure their basic rights.

2.4.4 Honour programme to senior citizens

Life is an echo...what you send out comes back. WNSO-Nepal, a volunteer based organization working in the field of quality education and nation building process, made a small effort to distribute clothes to elderly citizens. A charity, cloth distribution program, was commenced for Elderly Home was successfully organized at 6th January 2008, Sunday, in the premises of Pashupatinath Briddha Ashram, Kathmandu. About 286 elderly citizens were granted.

For this social and noble cause, WNSO members and volunteers were involved in collecting reusable clothes. New shawls and blankets were also distributed to each of the elderly members of the old-age home. We were very much aware that even a small contribution, by anyone from anywhere, makes the overall program successful. For the estimation of the material-required, organization members and volunteers visited Pashupati and surveyed the requirement. We were well supported by D2Hawkeyes, a software company, Kathmandu School of Law and Law Students' Society.

In the Program, WNSO-Nepal organized a discussion series with Office Chief of Briddha Ashram Mr. Basudev Deuja. He provided the relevant information that government is not paying proper attention to address such issues. To preserve their right we must make joint effort from the government and non-government institutions. He provided facts about the woes and worries of the Briddha (elderly). He also shared how Pashupati Briddha Ashram is able to cope with the prospects, challenges and various legal and social issues which impact a lot in the elderly day to day life. After a very intense discussion we came into conclusion that "elderly people are like other dignified citizen who are the citizen of the nation and must not be ignored at all".

Since Nepalese Government does not have extensive health care policies for Elder Citizens living in "Bridha Ashram" in the premises of Pashupati and at other centres in Nepal, it becomes everyone's responsibility to take care of them for the sake of humanity. Main objective of this program was to relieve needy elderly people from the chilling cold, which is, of course, a social service purely altruistic and sacred from every perspective. It is really challenging to cope with freezing weather for the elder citizens. Most of them are vulnerable and there exist possibility of suffering from rheumatism, asthma, cold, fever, etc. Therefore, such activities must be taken under consideration, WNSO believes. "Today we are young; tomorrow we all will get old. Let's realize how they feel while living in "Bridha Aashram" away from their loved one.

2.4.5 Research and community study

WNSO-Nepal enhances the interested and enthusiastic students and youth, if they have skills, to project their creative and practical skills. In this regard to lead the nation towards prosperity focus was made on research for the social, political and economic activities in context of Nepal. Under the authorization of the organization, study and understanding of prospects for future investment and local industrialization etc were made by some energetic members; along side, they played immensely appreciable role to counsel the people of remote area about the Constitution Assembly as well. Main purpose of the visit, beside the local product enhancement, was to make the people aware about the role of coming CA election, which is considered to shape the future of Nepal. Conduction of civic education and awareness program to local community is one of the frontier step made by this volunteer organization.

This program was supported by WNSO-Nepal, the team comprised of four members, with minimum logistics. The team conducted the touched-with-time activities in the local communities and performed the designed program with their effort within 10 days. The team had departed from Kathmandu on 7th March 2008 for backward areas of Palpa (Heklang, Gejha VDC) and Parbat (Phalebas, Devisthan VDC) districts, and arrived at Kathmandu on 16th March, 2008. Hope for the supports by WNSO seems accomplished with higher outcomes. During the course of trip, we can extrovertly observe the relational development with local communities; donation of books, materials and other resources to local libraries and schools. Interaction with local social workers, political leaders and community activists helped to study and understand prospects for future investment to promote local industrialization.

Team had further objectives to socialize with the local people of the communities and to interact with them about the future goals for the economic and social prosperity of the community. Team was also determined to focus upon the prospective local resources for the use and processing to ensure the production and generating the industrial outcome of those resources. Further more, focus was made on objectives to understand the attitude and interests of the local stakeholders to participate in suchproductive and economically viable activities.

2.5.1 Fund raising, fun and enthusiasm

Along with educational support to the Nepalese students, WNSO Nepal has mission to organize volunteers and mobilize them for several aspect of human, social and environmental activities. As per organizational motto of WNSO, it organized volunteer camp on the occasion of World Wetlands Day carrying a slogan "Save the Nature: Save the Planet". And the especial thematic manifesto of the Day was "Healthy Wetlands, Healthy People.

WNSO-Nepal held some formal programs to make our volunteers aware of nature, wild conservation, its importance in human life and human responsibility towards it. After the completion of interaction program subjected to get ultimate mission of the day, it also helped to promote environmental skills to WNSO youth volunteers. During the interaction session, foreign students with great joy appreciated the program and wished for the better future of both organization and volunteers.

All the volunteers valued the significance of nature, and also became aware about the wet land. Their commitments also helped to mobilize awareness in community. Newly joint volunteers got opportunity to shake hand with earlier volunteers associated with WNSO-Nepal. They were also made to realize the value of volunteerism for rapid progress and prosperity of country like Nepal. Volunteers presented over there also promised to go ahead to achieve ultimate mission of WNSO-Nepal.

Volunteering organization like this has to bear several difficulties to run properly with its basic agendas. Up to now it has not any funding agency to support. However, ‘if there is Will-to-do, we can convert the aim into achievement’; under this presumption with several ideas WNSO- Nepal contrives for fund raising programs.
Along with the motif of fund raising, white water rafting program became good refreshment to all the active participants, volunteers, well-wishers and even for organization itself to go ahead with high spirit initiating in spring. This program became very fruitful in the sense that, first, Participants got opportunity to observe natural heritage in country like Nepal. Thereby one can easily guess the possibility for the tourism industry in Nepal. Secondly, WNSO got new enthusiastic volunteers entry, side by side it became good platform to interact between new comers and existing volunteers. Thirdly, its motif was to celebrate World Water Day, too, to awaken the people about such heritage existing in country.

WNSO-Nepal found it essential to celebrate World Water Day to disseminate the knowledge and possible use of water. This opportunity also became helpful for fund raising schemes with highly content fun. There have been about 80 members who participated in the program and rocked the event. Some new participants also showed their genuine interest to know more about organization; and they were well communicated about WNSO and its objectives. Such practices add matured experiences to follow the mission even in difficulties.
